

GRAND JURY STARTS PROBE

CONGRESS SPLIT ON PRESIDENT'S TAX PROGRAM

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 4.—Panama has forced the United States to pay rental for the Canal in terms a shade better than the devalued dollar. The rest of the difference is more than made up to her by our renouncing our present rights to maintain order and guarantee independence of the Canal Republic.

If trouble ever comes neither of these renunciations will be worth any more than the paper they are written on, but that is for the future to take care of.

It is all part of the policy of blandishing our "Good Neighbors."

The concession to Panama in actual cash is the entertaining angle of the transaction. No resident of the United States can force a similar settlement. Will Panama be the only exception?

NIs a debt owed to Panama any more sacred or any more an obligation than a debt owed to a citizen of the United States by the Government or by another citizen?

Are "balboas," the Panama currency, sounder possessions than our "sterlingized" dollars?

If not, how about permitting hard-pressed Americans to pay their taxes in balboas?

ALICE LONGWORTH.

PA NEW OBSERVES

For the past few days young Pa New has overheard a number of South Side residents complain about the number of dogs running loose in the district. One young lady told the writer that within one block she counted six stray dogs Tuesday.

Of all the places for a truck to stall downtown. This is exactly what one big truck did Tuesday on the corner of Mercer and East Washington streets. The result was that traffic was tied up for some time and the truck had to be towed away. About an hour later another truck refused to move on the same spot. After fiddling around for nearly 10 minutes, the motorist succeeded in starting the truck.

Patrons of the New Castle post-office have been rather puzzled for several days past on entering the Jefferson street entrance of the building, to find a lantern lighted and occupying a position on the steps inside the building. It is discovered that a piece of the step was broken off, and the light is a warning to prevent anyone being hurt from a fall.

Announcement elsewhere in this issue indicates that one of the biggest work projects that was started here in the course of the past few years of the depression, the Croton wall is nearing completion. The final topping of the wall may be completed today which will mark the final step necessary to complete the stone construction work.

President's Tax Plan Presages Congress Fight

Mingled Feeling Of Praise And Condemnation Meet New Proposals

DEMOCRATS SEEM SPLIT ON PROGRAM

House Committee Meets Behind Closed Doors To Consider Tax Methods

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—President Roosevelt's bold proposal to revolutionize the entire system of corporation taxation today aroused mingled feelings of praise and condemnation and presaged a fight which may blast hopes for early adjournment of congress.

A split of party lines was threatened as influential Democrats in both senate and house attacked the president's plan of taxing undistributed earnings of corporations and repealing all existing corporation taxes.

Democratic leaders, while indicating that congress may revise the plan and cut down the huge tax bill, expressed confidence that the program can be pushed through both houses.

Opinions Differ.

The program was characterized in some quarters as an effort to shift the cost of the farm program to industry. It was praised as a means to force corporations to release huge sums, and attacked as a blow at the very foundations of successful corporations.

Amid an atmosphere of uncertainty, a house ways and means subcommittee met behind closed doors to explore means of raising the ultimate total of $1,137,000,000 demanded by Mr. Roosevelt.

Abandoning last session's practice of making the president's message the basis for hearings, the full committee decided to draft a bill before hearings are opened.

Inflationists in both houses were strangely quiet, but it was certain that the house group will fight Mr. Roosevelt's request for $120,000,000 taxes to finance the soldiers' bonus.

"The president's tax message is a complete answer to those who have been continually shouting about un-

Haile Selassie Would Discuss Peace Terms If Italian Troops Withdraw

(Copyright, 1936, By International News Service)

ADDIS ABABA, Mar. 4.—Emperor Haile Selassie is ready to discuss peace terms with Italy, it was said in official circles today, provided Mussolini withdraws his troops to the positions they held before October 2, day of the outbreak of the Italo-Ethiopian war.

The Negus remains absolutely undaunted by the recent Italian advances on the northern front; he has not changed his position during five months of warfare; and, significantly, he still is relying upon the League of Nations to help defend his empire against aggression, hoping for further sanctions.

If Addis Ababa officials are correct in their predictions, the emperor will talk peace with Il Duce,

Try Diesel-Electric Locomotive On Pennsy

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 4.—Marking a new era in railroad transportation, a trim Diesel-electric locomotive left here at 8:05 a. m. today on its return test run on a regular passenger route over the Pennsylvania railroad lines to Philadelphia.

The spectacle was as dramatic, if not as significant, as the day Robert Fulton steamed up the Hudson river in a "boiler boat."

Instead of the snorting "iron horse" belching smoke and soot, and lurching with the familiar clamor that has been typical of the locomotive since its inception, the new Diesel-electric quietly pulled out this morning, emitting only a thin thread of smoke from the burning of its fuel—oil.

Some railroaders believe the Diesel-electric is the "coming thing" and may replace its predecessors because of its economy.

Rural Avenue Work Project To Be Started

Work on the Rural avenue project of the WPA started today, city council withdrawing their opposition to the start at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon.

Approximately 100 men will be given work for five months on the project, it was stated by WPA Director J. Vale Downie. When completed it will improve traffic conditions between the north hill and Neshannock avenue.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath and councilman colleagues no longer will oppose the resumption of work in Rural avenue because State Administrator Jones, of the WPA, notified local WPA officials yesterday that it would be impossible to transfer funds allotted for that job for the continuation of work on the Martin street sewer and Crawford Run ripraping.

This in effect, was what Mayor McGrath said to a group of WPA employees yesterday afternoon in council chambers, city hall, after the mayor had talked by telephone with the state administrator, and also J. Vale Downie, district director.

The mayor and councilmen who had worked all day in an effort to keep the men employed on the two projects, now abandoned temporarily because of exhausted funds, said they would cease opposition to

Flood Sweeps Part Of Iowa

(BULLETIN)

DES MOINES, Ia., Mar. 4.—Two persons were drowned, thousands of acres of land were inundated, more than 400 families were driven from their homes, and disease reared its head to increase the peril as floods swept sections of Iowa today.

Three hundred families were routed from their homes in Harrison county, near Missouri valley, during the night, and many were housed in public buildings. A plea for coats and blankets was sent to Omaha.

When several of the refugees developed scarlet fever, they were isolated, and COG boys who had recently experienced an epidemic of scarlet fever and were immune, were assigned to care for them.

The drowned were John Davey, 14, whose body was still being sought in the swollen waters of Turkey creek near Anita today, and Leon Hardy, 20, of Ottumwa, swept over a dam in the Des Moines river.

as proposed by the League of Nations yesterday, only if the Italian dictator makes the first move by withdrawing his troops.

High officials here stated the Negus at present considers it more important to superintend Ethiopian strategy in the war with his Deseys headquarters, but if and when necessity demands he will not hesitate to lead his troops in person against the foe.

Then he will be ready, as Ethiopia's first soldier, to give supreme, desperate battle for the existence of his country.

Lately, it was revealed, he has visited several points along the northern front, discussing military tactics with his chieftains and consoling the wounded, although ill himself—perhaps more ill than those he has comforted.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey will be the toastmaster, assuring that the program will move along on schedule.

The principal speaker will be Fred Whipple, of Meadville, one of the leading merchants of that city and chairman of the Crawford County Republican committee.

Mrs. Catherine Schrantz, 28, of Atlantic avenue, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital in a serious condition, having been beaten this morning, state police allege by her husband, Carl, 36, who was arrested by State Troopers John Bradbury and Ernest James.

Schrantz was captured along the P. R. tracks near Atlantic avenue following the attack, which occurred at nine a. m. in the Schrantz home, 224 Atlantic avenue. The cause of the attack has not been learned.

According to the troopers, two men on a truck, Harry Frey and John Taggart, saw Mrs. Schrantz leaning over the fence at her home. She was in a dazed condition. She had a severe laceration of the head and bruises. They took her to the Jameson Memorial hospital. It was

President Starts His Fourth Year

Observes Anniversary In White House By Pondering Relief Funds

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—With Congress snarling over his new tax proposals, President Roosevelt observed his third anniversary in the White House today by tackling an even more delicate financial and economic problem—the question of how much money will be required to carry federal unemployment relief through the fiscal year of 1936-37.

A detailed estimate of needs for the jobless will be ready for submission to Congress within the next two weeks. Officials of the relief agencies have been working on the emergency budget for several months, but the President has sent out word he wants it completed by March 19 at the latest. On that date he plans to head south for a quick stop at Warm Springs, Ga., and a brief fishing cruise in Florida waters.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—A diplomatic chess game involving the peace of Europe and the destiny of the world's most renowned modern dictator, Benito Mussolini, is in full swing in Europe, according to well informed quarters here today.

Resumption of this diplomatic chess game marks the latest phase of the Italo-Ethiopian war and its relationship to the peace of Europe.

Rome's claim that its armed modern legions in northern Ethiopia have wiped out 10,000 of Emperor Haile Selassie's black warriors in a single battle was regarded, especially in military quarters here, as part of the diplomatic chess game.

TOKYO, March 4.—An emergency decree establishing a special military tribunal to try participants in last week's mutiny was promulgated today as new uncertainty entered the political situation with the most unprecedented action of Prince Fumimaro Konoze in refusing the emperor's command to form a new government.

A government communique announcing the new tribunal said a total of 1400 officers and men of the third infantry regiment of the Imperial Guards division, the first and third regiments of the third division, and the seventh heavy artillery regiment participated in the mutiny. Severe punishment is expected, however, only for the 19 officer-leaders.

Prince Konoze, president of the house of peers, pleaded ill health as his reason for refusing the premier-ship.

Croton Hill Wall Being Completed

Work Of Putting On Stone Caps Will Likely Be Finished Today

Working of putting on the stone caps on the Croton Hill wall has been going forward rapidly this week, and will likely be completed today, the appearance of the wall indicated this morning.

Workmen have been cutting the stone for the past two weeks, and masons have been putting them in place this week.

Residents of the community are hopeful that a new sidewalk will now be put down, as the old walk is in bad condition, having been broken up considerably while the wall was being erected.

Col. Lindbergh Urges Support Of Schwarzkopf

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 4.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has written from England a letter to United States Senator A. Harry Moore urging him to rally his political influence behind Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf in the efforts of Gov. Harold Hoffman to oust Schwarzkopf as head of the New Jersey State Police, the Evening Journal says today in a copyrighted dispatch from Trenton.

The newspaper attributes its information to an official source close to Senator Moore, who was governor of New Jersey at the time of the Lindbergh baby kidnapping.

The letter, containing Col. Lindbergh's first mention of the crime which cost the life of his infant son since Bruno Richard Hauptmann's trial at Flemington, will shortly be made public by Senator Moore. It is said, since the famous flyer has advised that this be done if it "will be beneficial."

No Mention Of Gov. Hoffman

Col. Lindbergh's letter, it is said, contains no mention of Governor Hoffman, merely referring to recent actions as being "unfair and unjust."

Election Board And Former Judge Hildebrands Tellers Are Witnesses

Sweeping investigation of alleged election irregularities in the first precinct of the fifth ward were opened by the grand jury at court this morning. More than twenty witnesses, including members of the election board, former Judge R. L. Hildebrand, who opened the ballot box, tellers who made the recount, and former Alderman Richard R. Lewis, are among those subpoenaed.

The investigation got under way Tuesday afternoon when District Attorney Mont L. Alley placed in the hands of County Detective Sharp Leslie, the subpoenas for witnesses. They were summoned to appear at the court house this morning. The investigation is being conducted behind closed doors, with District Attorney Alley examining the witnesses.

The alleged irregularities developed over the election of an alderman in the fifth ward. Prothonotary John A. Edgar was the first witness called. He presented the facts in the case as shown by the return sheet made by the election board, and the recount as shown by the special board appointed by Former Judge Hildebrand.

ONE ROOM SCHOOLS PASSING

Approximately $50,000,000 Being Expended On New Schools In State

P. W. A. FUNDS ARE AIDING PROGRAM

By ARTHUR H. WAKELEE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, March 4.—Pennsylvania's "Little Red Schoolhouses" where the traditional three R's and all other subjects were taught in a one-unit building by a single teacher, are gradually disappearing from the educational scene under the inroads of new building programs costing some $50,000,000.

Sponsored by the Department of Public Instruction, new school buildings are being constructed throughout the state with the aid of Public Works and Works Progress Administration funds. Within the space of a comparatively few short years, more than 4,000 of the one-unit school buildings have been replaced by modern, multiple-division schools. Although more than 6,000 such schools are still in use, many of them will be supplanted in the new building programs.

Expend $50,000,000
"At least $50,000,000 is being expended for new schools in the state," Hubert Elcher, director of the school buildings division of the Department of Public Instruction said today. "Under the Public Works program, $20,000,000 in federal grants has already been allocated for school buildings. Supplemented by additional sums from the state, the total for these buildings total at least $50,000,000."

Pointing out 233 school building projects are now underway in the state with approval of the Public Works Administration, Elcher said projects to be carried out will replace many of the 6,200 one-teacher schools in Pennsylvania. Other types of schools will also be included.

in the construction program, while much of the WPA program includes additions to schools and renovating work.
"Fifteen years ago there were 10,000 one-teacher schools in Pennsylvania," Elcher said. "These schools have now been reduced in number to 6,200 and many of those remaining are included in new building programs."

New school structures to be built, according to Public Works officials, are all multiple-division schools, and average approximately $200,000 each in cost. While work on many of the buildings had already been started, it was stated, adverse weather conditions have held up some construction that will be begun as soon as weather permits.
A total of 117 school building and renovation projects have been completed under the WPA program, which now has more than 400 similar projects underway. Most of this work consists of reconditioning existing buildings and grounds. Completion of contract details and approval of outstanding projects, officials said, will see the building program in full swing later this spring and summer.

Indications are that the city council will have to take some steps towards replacing the dog catcher on the job in this city. With spring about ready to break in upon the community, the dog running at large nuisance is more noticeable than ever, and complaints are beginning to increase from citizens in all parts of the city.

With the advent of spring-like weather, merchants throughout town lost no time in trimming their windows with golf, baseball and other athletic equipments, Young Pa Newc observed.

Mayor's Statement

The mayor's statement to the men in council chambers was as follows:

"We promised you we would call Mr. Jones at Harrisburg. We got him on the telephone and stated our proposition to have Martin street sewer work go on. He promised to call back. But we have waited until now and we received no call. However, we got Mr. Downie on the telephone and he stated Mr. Jones had called him and told him that he (Jones) would do all in his power to get the Martin street work started soon. In regard to the transfer of money from Rural avenue job to Martin street project he said that was definitely out."

"We have made an honest effort to get you back on this job, but we will now have to admit that we are licked. Now, against our better judgment, we have informed Downie that we will let the Rural avenue work go through. We know it is not the right thing to do but we want to get you men back to work. The members of council realize it is important to you and we don't want it said that we stand in your way."

"We appreciate you men coming here and stating your cause. It was the right thing to do. You have been kind and considerate of us and I think you appreciate our position in this matter. If at any future time we can be of service to you and can make your lot any easier we trust you will come to us. If we can help you out we will only be too glad to do so."

SEE POSSIBILITY OF EARLY SETTLEMENT OF AFRICAN CONFLICT

over in the military dispatches somewhere between the Italian front lines and Rome for the sake of Italy's position at the diplomatic bargaining counter in Geneva.

With a new peace settlement move under way at Geneva, it was considered only natural that Italy was bound to pretend its armies are enjoying impressive victories in Ethiopia whether they are or not.

In fact, it was believed the latest Italian attack, for which plans have been carefully laid for weeks, was deliberately timed to coincide with the meeting of the League of Nations council at Geneva, and there were those in well informed quarters here who believed Italy would have had a "victory" at this time if its black shirt legions in Ethiopia had resorted to shooting lions instead of Haile Selassie's warriors.

The very fact the Ethiopian government has not ridiculed the Italian claims of victory also was considered of the utmost importance. This is the first time Addis Ababa has not attempted to discount an Italian victory, no matter how authentic such victories actually turned out to be.

This was viewed as an indication that Ethiopia, having experienced a taste of "civilized" methods of warfare, was now ready to consider almost any peace terms.

In fact, the view prevailed that all parties involved, Italy, Ethiopia and the League, were now disposed to effect a quick settlement of the African conflict.

ELECTION PROBE OPENED TODAY BY GRAND JURY

dates for alderman: David West, 124; Samuel Bassano, 424; Richard R. Lewis, 200. The Lewis vote was made up of 30 ballots cast on the Prohibition ticket; 94 on the Socialist and 76 independent.

Recount Differs

The recount, as shown by Judge Hildebrand's board, showed the following: David West, 112; Samuel Bassano, 224; Richard R. Lewis, 357. In the recount Lewis had 61 on the Prohibition ticket, 139 on the Socialist, 154 on the independent and 3 no party.

In the election board's return Bassano was the leader, but in the recount the tables were turned and Lewis was ahead. Lewis attempted to stop the issuing of a commission to Bassano based on the election board's return, but three of the names on his petition were ineligible and the petition was filed one day too late, so that the commission was issued to Bassano.

When the election box was brought into court by Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard to be opened, it was secured with a padlock. After it had been opened it was found that the ballots were allegedly not in the same shape that they had been when they were placed in it by the election board, according to the statements by members of the board.

The discrepancies found were so large that it appeared that they were not the result of clerical errors. Indications were that the box had been tampered with and the ballots either changed or others substituted. However there was nothing developed during the recount to indicate who was responsible. It was too late to get the matter before the December grand jury, so when Judge James A. Chambers charged the present grand jury on Monday he drew the matter to their attention, indicating that they had a right to make an investigation if they believed the circumstances warranted this action.

Call Witnesses

The grand jury was of the opinion that there should be an investigation. After calling the witnesses the jury will have the right to direct the district attorney to bring an indictment against the person or persons, suspected of tampering with the ballots, if this can be determined from the evidence presented.

Among the witnesses summoned are the following members of the election board: John Mash, judge; Caroline Ricciardi, inspector; Dora Greco, inspector; Rose Fulena and Anthony Ricciardi, clerks.

Special recount board, Former Judge R. L. Hildebrand, Attorneys Errol Fullerton, Frank O. Morretti, LeRoy Donaldson, James E. Chambers and Sherman K. Levine.

Other witnesses include former Alderman Richard R. Lewis, Harry Schell, Tony Collole, Joe Paglia, Nellie Greco, Edward Whiteman, Eleanor Bassano, Fred Dominick, John Fulena, Dominick Lombardo, Joe Pisano, Nick George, Frank Macchia, Ralph Largo and Thomas White.

Former Alderman Richard R. Lewis was before the grand jury for considerable time this morning. The session being secret, the nature of his testimony is not known. Neither will the testimony of any of the other witnesses before the grand jury become public.

If the grand jury finds grounds for an indictment the testimony of the witnesses who are before the grand jury today will come out in the court trial.

balanced budgets," said Senator Harrison (D) of Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Announce Opposition.

Senator King (D) of Utah and Reps. Thompson (D) of Illinois and Lemneke (D) of Ohio, the latter two members of the powerful house ways and means committee, announced flat opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's plan.

"If we ever are going to put the unemployed back to work it must be by industry," said Lemneke. "Every tax that destroys profit and the protection of surpluses will lead to the destruction of industry. Seventy-five to 80 per cent of industry has not made a profit since 1929."

Thompson said he had difficulty reconciling Mr. Roosevelt's message to the "breathing spell" promised business. Rep. O'Connor (D) of New York, introducing a bill to tax corporation surpluses 33 per cent, declared the president's plan is sound. He named General Motors Corp., as one which would be affected.

Some members declared the plan would strike hard at Henry Ford and others who have built up huge businesses.

Schwarzkopf and his department, Lindbergh is reputed to state that since Moore was governor at the time of the investigation it is his duty to protect and defend the state police from attacks by the present governor.

In the letter Lindbergh is said to again repeat his firm belief and conviction that with the arrest and conviction of Hauptmann "full" justice had been met and meted out in the famous case.

Lindbergh, it is said, promised Moore to return to this country and personally to aid in the fight to force Schwarzkopf's retention in his job.

"Efficiency Shown"
"Colonel Lindbergh clearly states to Senator Moore," the Journal quotes its informant as saying, "that he has always been convinced the credit for breaking the case belongs primarily to the state police."

He was brought to the office of the state highway patrol, where a search of his pockets revealed a card issued by the transient bureau of the state bearing the name of Paul Nelson, showing that he had been given assistance at the Butler and Pittsburgh offices. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where a partly filled bottle of bay rum was taken from his pockets. He was in an intoxicated condition, an examination revealed.

Posing with Mrs. Anna McLeure as leader was enjoyed throughout the serving of a delicious menu.

Mrs. Lola Kerr, a charter member of the organization, responded with a history of the class, dating back to the time it was formed twenty-eight years ago. This was followed by an impressive description of the class activities, given by Mrs. J. A. Wilson, teacher. Mrs. Arthur Minick, out-going president of the class, thanked each of her officers for the loyal support, given during the past term, and this was followed by an appropriate toast to the Rev. Yeates, spoken by Mrs. Floyd Moore in behalf of the assemblage. The pastor responded with fitting remarks.

Of further enjoyment was the sketch, a pantomime, entitled "Wanted Wife" that was humorous. A trumpet solo by Robert Evans with his mother, Mrs. Robert Evans, accompanist was well received, and afterwards, another sketch was presented, announced as "Tillie and Millie in New York". It caused a riot of laughter, with Mrs. Sankey, enacting the role. Miss Helen Jackson contributed two vocal solos, with her mother, Mrs. Helen Jackson, at the piano. The concluding number was in the form of "A Court Trial" with fifteen women of the Y. L. B. class performing, under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Minick.

Mrs. Minick took charge, and called in reports of the various committees for the year. Election of officers occurred during the business procedure, with Mrs. Earl McKnight being named as the new president; Mrs. Manley Bates, vice-president; Mrs. Blanche Coulter, treasurer; Mrs. Martha Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Letitia Craig, attendance secretary; Mrs. Allan Cartwright, press reporter; Mrs. J. ELECTION AND SPEAKER AT A. B. D. MEETING

In the North Mercer street home of Mrs. J. Norman Martin Tuesday evening the March meeting of the A. B. D.'s was held, with Miss Ruth Woodworth joint hostess.

An election of officers featured the business session, these results being made known: Mrs. Clair W. Chain, president; Virginia Weisshagen, vice president; Mrs. Roger W. Rowland, secretary; Miss Margaret Hice, treasurer (re-elected). Reports of various committees were heard, the business period being in charge of the retiring president, Mrs. James B. Foster. Devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Arthur B. Foster.

For the program the group heard an inspiring and interesting talk by Mrs. James R. Meade, who chose for her subject, "Give Us Work". She spoke of the demoralizing and tragic blight of unemployment, stressing the fact that work is a privilege at all times for everybody; religion is vastly important, particularly helpful in depression times such as these of recent years. She said that the class of people who will always be on the dole is a very small minority, compared with the mass who want work, bringing out the fact again that in all lands the great mass of people have character.

Another interesting feature of the program was a letter read by Mrs. Martin from Mrs. Robert Toler (nee Elizabeth Newell) who with Mr. Toler and their children have been in Shanghai, China, for the past year.

Refreshments were served afterwards by the hostesses with the assistance of Mrs. James B. Foster and Mrs. John A. Edgar.

MRS. HENRY SPEAKS TO TEEN AGE GIRLS

At the election, the following members were: Marie Galbreath, president; Mary Ellen Henderson, vice president; Estelle Haug, secretary; Doris Keifer, treasurer; Jane Martin, news reporter. Other business of a routine nature transpired, it being revealed that there are 29 charter members in this newest missionary group in the city, and that aid to Mrs. Davis, organizer, will be Miss Del Davidson and Mrs. Glen Carpenter.

Meetings will be held on the first Tuesday of each month, the next one in April to be in charge of Dorothy Beckwith, Helen Campbell and Jane Martin.

Mrs. Henry's talk proved doubly interesting to the girls as she had with her a number of women's and children's costumes from Ethiopia, and other articles which are rarely seen in the United States. After her talk, a social period was a further pleasure, and the sponsors served dainty refreshments.

TAXES AND NATIONAL INCOME

A RECENT tabulation in the United States News, comparing the relation of taxes to the national income, shows that the problem is growing constantly more serious.

In 1929, the national income touched its all-time high of $79,800,000,000. Taxes took $9,800,000,000 of it—12.4 per cent.

In 1933, the national income went to its post-war low of $43,600,000,000. Taxes took $8,100,000,000 — 18.6 per cent.

Last year, national income was $53,700,000,000. Taxes reached the highest ratio on record, taking $10,250,000,000—more than they took in the boom years—or 19.1 per cent.

Some apologists for the rising tide of taxation pointed out that, fast as government levies are rising in this country, we do not yet pay out as much to the tax collector as do the burdened citizens of some foreign countries. The English, for example, pay about 25 per cent of their income for government. There is, however, a vital difference between this country and England: The latter now has a balanced budget, and her taxes pay all the cost of running the government. American taxes pay but part of the cost—billions in deficits are being created and charged against the future.

Some day these deficits must be faced—and when that day comes, the ratio of taxation to national income, even if substantial business revival occurs, must greatly increase. It is no secret that if today's taxes were sufficient to pay all government costs, "extraordinary" as well as ordinary, the ratio would be well above 20 per cent—and would perhaps be the highest in the world. Most experts believe that the public spendings of the last few years make higher taxes absolutely inevitable—the best we can hope to do is to force economy and retrenchment on government, to the end that tax increases be limited as much as possible, the budget balanced, and the national debt reduced.

WORRY WEEK

An insurance man who is successful enough to sell a million dollars' worth of security a year has a bright idea about worrying. Realizing how important worry seems to be to many people, he boldly suggests making a regular job of it.

Let them concentrate on it, he suggests. Have regular times for it. Set aside one evening a week when they can do that week's worrying in a high-class way. Stay at home and do nothing at all but worry, worry, worry. Then maybe their temperaments will be cleared up for the rest of the week and they can get something else done.

Along comes a newspaper man and says, if that's a good idea for an individual, why not for a community or a nation? Let's have a national worry week. Properly drummed up, it could be a knock-out. Group worry meetings could be held all over, with inspirational talks from expert worryers. All the finest types of worry could be brought up for discussion. Notes could be taken and useful suggestions broadcast. There could be such a volume of collective worrying as this old world has never seen since everybody thought everything was coming to an end in the year 1000 A. D.

Then, with that out of their system, everybody could go back to work and get something done.

THESPIAN RECIPROCITY

Conceding it to be true, as asserted before the House committee on immigration, that Greta Garbo and Marlene Dietrich were no great shakes as dramatic artists in their home countries, how can that detract from their subsequent ability to entertain and sway movie audiences both here and abroad? To say, as was said by Miss Elizabeth Hoepfel, president of the Grand Opera Artists' Association, that they have won fame through American ballyhoo is to insult the intelligence of millions of their admirers who enjoyed their performances.

The occasion was a hearing on the resolution of Chairman Dickstein of New York to restrict entry of alien actors and musicians unless their nations grant reciprocity to Americans. This is to treat artists like merchandise passing over or through a tariff wall. It entirely disregards the human equation. So long as immigration quotas are not exceeded, we incline to agree with Martin Beck, Broadway producer, that "the man who invests the money has the right to judge who should fit the roles," with the ticket-buying public, of course, having last say so as to his wisdom.

If the Federal government were to take upon itself the burden of trying to make artistic expression here the handmaid of a limited nationalism, it would find itself in continual hot water. As well take the reading of Shakespeare out of the schools because Americans have written plays, too.

As a matter of fact, if American movies are giving employment to foreign artists, it is because those artists have a strong public appeal. And the reciprocity the Dickstein resolution seeks is substantially in existence. Europeans are paying hundreds of thousands of dollars a day to see American films in which the preponderance of American actors is overwhelming. That is more important than having Parisians excited over the antics of a Josephine Baker.

The 5 Babies Are Well.
Democratic Edward VIII.
Mussolini Winding Up.
Panama Gets Gold.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

DR. DAFOE, modest man from Canada, who understands quintuplets, dropped in to say the five little girls are doing well, fighting frequently, sign of a normal condition. They like sleeping outdoors with the weather 30 below zero, but in the daytime only. It would delight you to see their red cheeks.

Three hundred and seventy-five thousand visitors, nearly all from the United States, came to look through a fence at the quintuplets last year. 500,000 are expected this year. The baby girls are a wonderful advertisement for Canada. Many that go to see them will buy farms and stay.

A DEMOCRATIC young person is Edward the Eighth new king of England and Emperor of India. Broadcasting to 200,000,000 that live under the British flag and occupy one-quarter of the earth's surface, he does not refer to them as "my subjects" or "my people," as his predecessor did, but calls them "FELLOW-MEN".

And Edward the Eighth does not refer to himself as "we," which is customary with other rulers. His father spoke of "my empire," and "my dear people," and called himself "we".

BEFORE broadcasting the King had visited the exhibition of British Industries at Olympia, talking to industrialists and merchants. He is a business King and to him business men are really human beings, important to the country in which they work.

MUSSOLINI seems to near the end of his labors in Ethiopia. Haile Selassie's territory lies open between the Italian forces and that of Addis Ababa, his armies are pretty well wiped out, except his private army, not expected to do much but take care of him.

Unless the League of Nations does something very decisive, the slave-dealing enterprise called "Ethiopian civilization" will probably change its ways and its government.

An authority, usually reliable, suggests that Haile Selassie will abdicate, turn over his throne to his son, the Crown Prince, who will make peace with Italy, thus "saving the face" of Haile Selassie.

UNCLE SAM, paying rent to Panama for the canal, offering the usual $250,000 rent installment, was told: "No, we do not take 59-cent dollars."

Washington admits that while it may try interesting experiments with its own money, and tell its own citizens "gold is too good for you," it has no right to make the outside world suffer.

Panama will get an amount of money equal to 250,000 of our dollars before the slid off the gold basis and into the "inflation bond" era.

"Indeed," returned the editor, mildly. "What have they done?"

"Why," came the reply, "in your report on my sermon, the word 'reverend' was printed four times, and each time they have misprinted it as 'neverend'."

In the olden day we used to hear many stories of successful men who had climbed round by round the ladder. There may be some today who realize the merit of this old system, but from our observation there are a lot more who would rather make the journey on an escalator.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

"YOU HAVE BEEN HERE BEFORE"

YOU ARE climbing a long and stony trail.

The sun beats fiercely down upon you. Your heart thumps. You gasp for breath. Your legs tremble and weaken beneath your weight. . . . You wish you hadn't come. You wonder if you will ever reach the end of this long trail. Isn't a man a fool to set himself a task that is beyond his powers? But is this task too much for you?

On you go. Somehow you'll make it. . . . You'll try another way. Instead of thinking of the end of the trail, far up there on the mountain top, you'll divide your toil into smaller endeavors. . . . See that big rock a hundred feet away. That's where you're going. And when you reach it fix your eyes on that tall tree up there. See if you can make that point. . . . And as you rest in the shade of that sturdy fellow who stands where he is and makes no journeys, you see a flowered meadow just round the bend in the trail. In a few moments you'll be crossing that. And when the meadow is behind you, you'll feel there just that steep rise and the clutter of boulders before you and you'll lift yourself over the last obstacle and find yourself on the peak of the world—victoriously achieving.

There you lie at last, weary, breathless, too tired to look around you. . . . But at length you raise yourself, you taste this triumph you have won, enjoy this beauty never seen before.

Never seen before? . . . But can that be the truth? Somehow it seems that you've been HERE before—seen those high clouds, breathed this clean air, touched those rocks, known this mountain. Never been here before, and yet it's all so poignantly familiar. . . . And how can that be true? Did you, in some other shape, in some other time, climb that same rocky trail, attain this same high peak?

No, no! my fri nd, you never did! And yet that dear familiarity is no illusion. . . . This day you won a victory over that hard trail, over your discouraged self. This day, instead of turning back, you fought your way forward. This day you drove your failing self to conquest, and this peace, this joy, this certainty that you've "been here before" is the sweet fruit of your attainment. . . . the good reminder of all your victories in the past.

This, I believe, is the answer. . . . Does it satisfy?

The World At A Glance

Roosevelt's Master Move.
Puts Taxes Up To Congress.
Many Places To Tax Found.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Mar. 4.—It begins to look as if President Roosevelt made a master move in forcing the taxation issue on congress now.

Congress had begun veering in all directions.

It had passed the bonus bill over a presidential veto.

It had agreed that the farm bill to take the place of the invalidated AAA must be passed.

It had thought of doing nothing in regard to taxes (to pay the cost) and in regard to relief until after election.

The president, in demanding that congress find the new taxes, and at the same time in trimming the national budget, has pulled the chair from under Republican critics—for the time being.

Yes, he not only is willing to pay as we go, but demands it.

And will the Republicans vote for the new taxes? Well, they voted for the bonus and they favor bounties to the farmers.

Yes, they will have to swallow the taxes. And if they blame the president, they may lose votes where they need votes.

Furthermore, the taxes to which they will be forced to assent undoubtedly will be on big corporations—their undivided earnings. And that may reduce campaign contributions.

The Roosevelt maneuver was of the first water.

RELIEF

Relief actions, however, are not of first water.

Huge sums, of course, will be needed for relief.

That will give Republicans renewed opportunity to say what they think of the relief administration.

It is probable that it would be as bad under Republican as Democratic administration. At least, the general public has no illusion concerning that.

Such arguments are beating around the bush, anyway. Both the public on and off relief are dissatisfied. Even with the best of relief administration, relief is no remedy. With an inefficient administration it is tragedy.

What can be done to get men off relief, to put them to work?

Alas, congress never will discuss that.

PLENTY OF TAX

Congress knows one place to tax, as has been hinted.

Experts estimate that corporations have three billions of dollars in undistributed corporate earnings.

But those undivided earnings may disappear suddenly. Corporations may distribute them among stockholders.

Then the stockholders would have to pay—through income taxes.

But there is another means of evading such taxation—a very legitimate means. Corporations may modernize their plants. There may be a rush to build new plants.

INFLATION

But would not such a pouring of money into plant expansion be a form of inflation such as we had in 1928-29?

And if the earning capacity of the whole people—the purchasing power—were not increased in the same equivalent, would there not be another crash, an even worse crash?

These questions lead to a thousand others, but a discussion of them is considered heresy. We continue to hide our heads in the sand—worried political economists tell us.

State HOLC Borrowers Are Meeting Claims

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 4.—Distressed home owners who borrowed from the Home Owners Loan Corporation have been much more prompt about meeting their payments to the Corporation in Pennsylvania than in the nation generally.

The HOLC has made loans to 58,112 Pennsylvania home owners and has been forced to issue foreclosure orders in only 89 of these cases.

This means only one out of every 653 Pennsylvania borrowers has failed to meet payments in a manner satisfactory to the HOLC. In the country as a whole, on the other hand, the HOLC has started foreclosure proceedings against one out of every 172 borrowers.

Of the 89 Pennsylvania foreclosures, 31 have been caused by deliberate refusal of borrowers to meet their payments, 37 by abandonment of property, 18 by deaths, and three by legal complications.

men are warned. If they must climb up ten, fifteen or more flights, to go slowly. This is a heart disease country. Too energetic climbing might carry them higher than the top floor.

A well-known New York contractor, Jacob Rothschild, who built the Majestic apartment, biggest in its day, overlooking Central Park, visited another of his buildings on Thanksgiving Day. Elevators not running, he climbed fifteen stories, died that night.

PROF. DE SILVA of Harvard annoys proud womanhood. "Women as automobile drivers are consistently inferior to men, in physical skill and mental agility." Also, they learn to drive with more difficulty; up to twenty, woman may be taught to drive expertly, "after twenty-five or thirty, it is practically impossible for her to learn," says the professor.

No one will contradict a professor, in these days, but at least women have common sense, drive cautiously, rarely get drunk, and kill few pedestrians.

DESPITE the fact that Russia's gold production is said to be the second largest, Moscow abandons any gold basis pretence. What gold she gets will be used buying goods abroad.

The ruble, formerly half a dollar, is "stabilized" at five rubbles to the dollar, making it worth one-fifth of a dollar.

The dollar itself being worth only 59 cents, that makes the ruble worth about twelve cents. With money, about which nobody knows anything, nothing, is stable, not even gold, which by presidential order suddenly jumps $15 an ounce in value, and might jump higher.

FOUR YEARS ago the Lindbergh child was kidnaped. Bruno Hauptmann, convicted of the kidnaping and murder, caught spending the marked gold certificates that Lindbergh paid in a vain effort to get back his child, is still alive.

It is said that he will have another reprieve. Our system of justice is not hasty.

School Budget To Be Displayed

Beginning March 14 and continuing for 20 days the proposed school budget for 1936-37 will be on view in the administration building of the school board. Under the law the budget must be on view this many days after which formal action may be had.

At the board meeting Tuesday night informal discussion was held on the budget but nothing definite done. School officials have been preparing their figures for the past sixty days and shortly the proposed budget will be put together.

Government Told Of Defect In Stairway

Postmaster Richard A. Steen once more has called the government's attention to a defect which has arisen in the construction material of the new Federal building.

The other day a chunk of the marble stairway tread inside the South Jefferson street entrance broke off, creating a hazard for patrons. Washington has been informed of it.

Several months ago workmen of A. W. Kutsche & Company, the Detroit contractors who erected the building, returned here at the government's request to correct a faulty condition arising in the flooring in the mailing division.

Gaffney and sons, of the Pulaski road, have returned from Westmoreland City, Pa. where they attended funeral services for Mrs. Gaffney's father, Isaac Cook, who died February 27, just 2 1/2 months after the death of her mother. Mr. and Mrs. Cook had visited at the Gaffney home recently.

S. OF D. SOCIETY MEETS LAST NIGHT

A tureen dinner and an interesting program which included installation of new officers were enjoyed at the Central Presbyterian church, Tuesday night by the S. of D. Society.

The hostesses of the occasion were Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, Mrs. George Conway and Mrs. Glen Moore. The leader of the meeting was Mrs. Oscar Rhodes. Readings were offered by Mrs. Saul Festoso and Mrs. William Joyce, followed by a stewardship play.

Installation of the new officers was an important part of the evening's program. The members were also interested in the revelation of the names of their "big sisters" of the past year.

G-Club Member Honored.

Members of the G-Club gathered at the home of Irene Goski to help celebrate her birthday anniversary, which fell due March 2. Various games were in play during the early hours, the prize going to Sally Ak-slewicz.

Toward midnight, lunch was served, a large birthday cake adorning the center of the table, appointed in tones of yellow and white. Miss Leona Wenda presided as mistress of ceremonies during an amateur contest that followed. As the clock struck 12, the honored one lit the candles on the cake, at which time a toast was repeated. An informal social period concluded the program.

Tuesday Kensington Guests

Tuesday Kensington members were received in the home of Mrs. James L. Moss, Richelieu avenue, yesterday afternoon for their regular bi-weekly social event.

The occasion took the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon, a tempting menu being served at a table, marking places for 12. The hostess was aided by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Merle Moses, of Bessemer, with the menu, who was also a special guest. The remaining hours were spent informally with conversation, knitting and sewing.

Plans were completed for their next assemblage to take place with Mrs. Frank Kelley, Park avenue, on Tuesday, March 17.

Eckener Takes New Dirigible Aloft In Test

New German Airship Is Almost Twice As Big As Graf Zeppelin

(International News Service) FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Mar. 4.—The world's largest dirigible, the LZ-129, took the air at 3:19 p. m. today for the first time, on a test flight under the guidance of the veteran pilot, Dr. Hugo Eckener.

One hundred and fifty labor service men had been ready all day long to man the guide ropes of the 840-foot airship, but several postponements of the take-off were necessitated by a stiff ground wind.

Immense crowds gathered but were kept at a good distance to maintain a clear field.

Will Visit U. S.

The LZ-129, which will fly to both North and South America this summer, has a maximum diameter of 130 feet. It has accommodations for 50 passengers and 43 crew members. Power is provided by four Diesel engines of 1,050 horsepower each which give it a top speed of between 90 and 100 m. p. h.

The LZ-129, which probably later will be christened the "Field Marshal Von Hindenburg," has a total capacity of 190,000 cubic meters, making her almost twice the size of the veteran Graf Zeppelin.

The great airship has a duralumin structure and constitutes the last word in German airship construction. She represents Germany's great faith in this type of aircraft, despite disastrous ends of the American dirigibles Akron and Macon.

The British constitution is an unwritten, indefinite body of legal rules and principles which are partly the result of judicial decisions and partly acts on parliament. They are not collected.

Franklin Carter Held In Pittsburgh

State Investigator Makes Arrest; Says Carter Was Near Arrest In New Castle

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Mar. 4.—Elderly and distinguished-looking Franklin O. Carter of Chicago awaited court action today, charged with performing a delicate eye-operation on a dining room table without a license.

He was held for court by Alderman F. J. Halloran following testimony by Marjory Moran, 24, a nurse, who attended at one of Carter's operations—that of Betty Moulton, a high school girl.

The operation, according to Miss Moran, was performed in September, 1934, on the dining room table in the home of Harry Moulton. The fee was $500, it was testified.

Harry W. Vosburgh, state investigator, who arrested Carter, said he had received complaints that Carter had been "cutting the inner muscles of the eyes to straighten them."

Vosburgh said Carter at one time escaped him in New Castle by leaving the rear door of a home as he entered the front.

Pulmotor Use Taught To Class

More than 70 interested persons attended the first class Tuesday evening in the Mahoningtown school directed by Miss Leila McClurg under the adult education program.

Lieut. Criswell of the city police force was the speaker and demonstrated the use of the pulmotor in saving lives.

The first aid, home nursing and home hygiene classes held in the various centers of the city attract many as practical methods are taught. The classes are still open for more students and information as to time and place of classes may be had by calling 4750, extension 1.

Butterfly Squirms, Shakes Its Cocoon Wrap Inside Home

Down in Ellwood City a butterfly emerged in all its glory yesterday from the prison of its cocoon—may be it spells spring and maybe again it doesn't!

Maybe not, for the butterfly threw off its protective wrap inside the home of Mrs. Herbert Luti and not outside. Mrs. Luti exhibited the colorfully-winged insect at The News today.

Last December Mrs. Luti found the cocoon in a woods nearby her home, took it into a bedroom of the home and forgot about it. The butterfly fluttered about yesterday.

Operation May Halt Laughter Spells Of Girl

(International News Service) WESTON, W. Va., March 4.—Victim of a strange malady which causes uncontrolled laughter, Teresa Hawkins, 18-year-old business college student, will undergo an operation for a pelvic disorder later this week, Dr. J. E. Offner, her physician, released today.

Dr. Offner declined to say whether this disorder is responsible for the spells of laughter which began last Wednesday night while the girl was attending a movie and which have continued intermittently since.

During her curious six-day affliction, Teresa, daughter of W. Fred Hawkins, has frequently laughed herself into a state of exhaustion. She goes limp after each seizure and as the laughter subsides she is so exhausted she refuses to answer questions of doctors and nurses.

Now in a semi-conscious condition, she must be fed by attendants.

Register and Recorder William R. Hanna has received a supply of state personal tax blanks, which can be had by those who have not received blanks from the State Department of Revenue. These blanks are for the return of personal property such as mortgages, notes, stocks and bonds. The tax is one mill. Returns must be made before March 15.

Salaries of Parole Officer Jack M. Dunlap and his wife, Vivian Dunlap, were raised by Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham when the re-appointments of Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap were made this week. The salary of Mr. Dunlap was raised from $125 per month to $150 per month, and that of his wife from $50 per month to $60. They are also allowed expenses. One of the principal items of expense is the operation of an automobile for which 10 cents per mile has been allowed. The county commissioners have been trying to have the mileage of all county officials reduced to seven cents per mile. Welfare Director Edwin Reed has agreed to accept seven cents; County Detective Sharp Leslie has agreed if the others accept; Coroner Orville Potter has also made a tentative agreement, but Dunlap has not yet signified his willingness to accept, but may do so now that his salary has been raised. The mileage is fixed by law but in the interests of economy the commissioners believe that the officials can accept less and still have ample coverage of expenses.

Sealer of Weights and Measure J. M. Rae, has presented his first report to the county commissioners. The report covers half the month of February. During that time he inspected 77 computing scales, of which 64 needed adjustments. Two adjustments were made on other scales inspected. Liquid measures, milk bottles and packages inspected were found to be correct.

Owing to the fact that District Attorney Mont L. Ailey is engaged in presenting cases to the grand jury, the case of the commonwealth against John D. Seever, which was set for argument this week was continued until Saturday when Mr. Ailey will be through with the grand jury. Seever was convicted of the murder of his wife and was sentenced to the Western Penitentiary for life. He killed his sister-in-law, Catherine Rodgers, at the same time that he shot his wife. When he was sentenced for killing his wife, the Rodgers case was not disposed of and the indictment is still hanging over him. He has hopes some day of getting a pardon and wants the Rodgers indictment quashed. He is represented by Attorney Edwin K. Logan.

Several of the cases placed on the argument list for this week have been continued for various reasons. The cases continued are Royce Raubenolt, administrator, against Morris Newmark, affidavit of defense raising law questions; A. B. Stoner against Lawrence Twentier, petition to open judgment; Pearl M. Mayberry against James Mayberry, motion to amend. In the case of Gustav Barth against Martha Roth, motion for a new trial, briefs were submitted.

Arguments will be heard at court on next Saturday on the application of the Fourth Ward Athletic club of Ellwood City on a petition to quash objections to the granting of a charter. When the case was before court recently, the testimony of police officials was to the effect that the room proposed to be used by the athletic club were formerly known as a place where gambling was carried on. This probably would not have affected the case, had it not been for the fact that one of the directors of the proposed club was in charge of the rooms when it is alleged that the gambling took place. Directors who testified claimed that it was not to be what is known as a "one man" club.

PLAN GIANT AIR BASES ON PACIFIC COAST

Coast Defenses To Be Bolstered

Seattle And Alaska Sectors To Be Given Attention In New Plan

CONGRESS MAPS PLAN FOR ACTION

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 4.—Plans for establishment of a string of giant air bases in the Seattle and Alaskan sectors to bolster Pacific coast defenses were being mapped today by congressional leaders.

With provisions already made for strengthening the coastal defenses of Hawaii and the Panama Canal zone, attention is now being focused on the northwest and Alaska, peak of and regarded as the weakest point in the nation's Pacific defense triangle.

To Tour District
A congressional group probably will tour the northwest after the present session to obtain "on the ground" information of the defense needs of the area, said Rep. Parks (D) of Arkansas, chairman of the house appropriations subcommittee which mapped the $545,000,000 war department supply bill for 1937.

"Those northwest air bases are vitally needed in our Pacific coast defense triangle, which extends from Alaska to Hawaii to Panama," Parks said.

He said an effort would be made to obtain an appropriation for the proposed air bases this year, but if unsuccessful, at the next session in any event.

Strengthen Defenses
Park's subcommittee toured the Pacific coast and Hawaii before the war department supply bill, now pending in the senate, was brought before the house and approved. The committee found weaknesses in the defense at Hawaii, the Canal Zone and on the Pacific coast and as a result it provided $8,500,000 in the supply bill to strengthen defenses in these sectors, authorizing an increase of 3,000 men to the army's enlisted personnel of 147,000.

Rep. Wilcox (D) of Florida was expecting early action on a report by the war department on his bill to establish a series of air bases throughout the nation and in its far-flung outposts. The department was asked to recommend sites for the $63,000,000 air base chain.

Meanwhile, the house naval affairs committee was preparing to report out a bill authorizing building over a ten-year period of 54 navy auxiliary vessels of a total tonnage of 221,000 tons and costing $175,000,000. Included in the $549,000,000 navy appropriation bill for 1937, are provisions for 18 new warships, destroyers and submarines part of the five-year program to bring the fleet to treaty strength.

Charge Espionage Against German
Dr. Herman Gortz On Trial In London As Spy Against Great Britain

(International News Service)
LONDON, Mar. 4.—Espionage against the American air force during and after the World War was charged today against Dr. Hermann Gortz, German novelist and former flying officer, on trial here as a spy against Great Britain.

The prosecution alleged Dr. Gortz wrote a letter to German authorities seeking a job as a spy, stating he had conducted espionage against the United States as evidence of his capability.

Dr. Gortz, who also is a lawyer, is charged with making a sketch of a Royal Air Force airmen and with other offenses under the British official secrets act.

The German's arrest upon arrival at Harwich last November 8 brought to light what was termed a "war of the intelligence services" of Germany and Britain. He had been held in prison since then.

The British charge also that Dr. Gortz conspired with a beautiful blonde German girl, Marianne Emig, to aid him in spy work. She has been described as his niece and as his secretary.

Akron Officials Are 'Under Fire'

City Officials Under Fire For Actions In Strike At Rubber Plants

(International News Service)
AKRON, O., Mar. 4.—City officials today were under fire in connection with the strike at the Good-year Tire & Rubber company here as city council demanded to know "why obvious violation of law was disregarded."

Council has named a committee of three to investigate the matter and unanimously adopted a resolution instructing the committee to ask that question of city officials.

Further negotiations for a truce in the strike, now in its third week, were seen as probable following a trip to Columbus by Sheriff James T. Flower and Prosecutor Herman E. Werner, who conferred with Gov. Martin L. Davey.

Governor Ousts State Director Of Publications

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 4.—A new state director of publications was to be named today to fill the vacancy occasioned overnight by Gov. George H. Earle's sudden dismissal of I. Paul Linn, his own appointee to the $5,000-a-year post, for "irregularities" and "juggling specifications" on state printing.

Linn, a former Philadelphia advertising man, was removed effective last midnight, following a six weeks investigation which produced "documentary evidence of irregularities" in his office, according to the governor. As head of the bureau of publications, he supervised all state printing.

The "juggling" of specifications, the governor stated, has been a "repeated violation" over a long period of time. Specifically, Linn was accused of seeking bids from companies known to be unqualified for a particular job so that a favored printing firm would win the contract virtually without opposition.

Believe Prisoner In City Lock-up Threw Lighted Match Away And Started Blaze

When smoke began creeping through the floor of the second floor, city building annex late yesterday afternoon Mayor Charles E. McGrath summoned firemen and it was discovered that someone, probably one of two prisoners confined in a lower floor jail cell had started a fire from some sort of material between the jail cell and wall of the building.

When the mayor rushed into the jail he found the men asleep.

He believes that one of the men either tossed a lighted match into the small pile of paper or "what have you" to get warm or tossed a match away after having lighted a cigarette.

The firemen who were sent to the building had no trouble extinguishing the small blaze which made considerable smoke.

Fear Military Dictatorship Is Likely In Greece

(International News Service)
ATHENS, Mar. 4.—Reports that proclamation of a military dictatorship to end Greece's political stalemate is imminent caused widespread anxiety in Athens today.

General Papagos, present war minister, is about to be replaced by General Strimberg, military chief of King George's household, as a preliminary step, it was understood. King George's personal appeal as he opened parliament early this week has failed to calm political tension, growing out of recent successes of the Venizelist Republican party at the polls.

"There's Nothing Low Priced in TERRAPLANE . . . Except the Price!"

"That's my idea of an automobile!"

Thousands have made this discovery and stepped UP, with Terraplane, in everything but cost.

UP, over every other low priced car, in distinctive new style, in size and room. Terraplane's 115-inch wheelbase is 2 to 6 inches longer than any of the others. Its 195 inches of over-all length is 5 to 12½ inches greater than any other. And its 145 cubic feet of inside space means more leg room, head room, shoulder room than you'll find in a single one of the other low priced cars.

More Passenger and Baggage Room

Only one low priced car has a rear opening baggage compartment with space for spare tire, lying flat . . . Terraplane! In all 5 and 6-passenger closed models, at no extra cost. More baggage room than the average trunk model for which you pay extra in other low priced cars. Terraplane buyers step UP over all the others in power, too. 88 or 100 horsepower, outclassing other low priced cars by as much as 18 horsepower. With unequalled smoothness from a motor that's free of vibration at any speed.

You Get the Most in Safety

You make a big step UP in safety with Terraplane's body really all of steel, straight through to seamless solid steel roof. Instead of bodies with "softtops," or only partly of steel, which other low priced cars offer.

And nowhere else in the low price field can you get a single one of these Terraplane features: Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes (patent applied for). The Electric Hand, optional at small extra cost. Radial Safety Control (patent applied for). Extra deep "V-type" windshield.

Long life, attested by Terraplane owner records of 125,000, 150,000 miles or even more. And record after record for economy. The latest —officially certified economy of 23.95 miles per gallon in the 352-mile Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run, on mountain roads with three passengers and baggage.

Priced With the Lowest

Compare prices in the low price field . . . not the "interest-catching" prices on models hardly anyone wants, but prices on the model you have in mind. You'll find Terraplane down with the lowest in price . . . up with the finest in value. Come in today.

URGES SENATE COMMITTEE TO HEAR HAGOOD

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—An appeal to the senate appropriations committee to hear the "exiled" Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood during its consideration of the $550,000,000 war department bill was made today by Senator Metcalf (R) of Rhode Island.

He suggested Hagood be heard on army housing conditions since he was commander of the largest corps area in the nation prior to his removal. It was for frankly criticizing WPA expenditures in his Texan command that Hagood was "exiled" by the war department to his home in South Carolina.

Senator Dickinson (R) of Iowa, member of the senate subcommittee, considering the war department bill, endorsed Metcalf's suggestion. He said Hagood's experiences as commander of the Eighth Corps area would enable him to give "valuable testimony."

Administration leaders, however, were opposed to the summoning of Hagood. They were fearful of the officer, already punished for one outspoken criticism of administration spending, might renew the criticism and create a new problem.

Badminton Tourney To Be Staged Here

Permission Granted For Use Of Junior High School Gym
For Contests

Announcement was made today by Bowrie Zahmsier, president of the New Castle Badminton association, that the western Pennsylvania Amateur tournament would be held in New Castle this month. For the moment it is not certain whether the dates of the tournament will be March 20-21 or March 27-28. This will be made definite in a few days.

Appearing before the New Castle school board Tuesday night at its special session, Mr. Zahmsier and John McIlwraith asked permission of the board to use the George Washington junior high school for the tournament and after finding out what the game was all about the board granted the permission.

Badminton is a new sport to western Pennsylvania, but it is growing rapidly. Here in New Castle there has been a group of enthusiasts playing the game for the past two years. The association is headed by Bowrie Zahmsier as president. John McIlwraith is vice president. Robert Winters, secretary, and Charles Piper Byers, Jr., treasurer.

John McIlwraith has been named as tournament manager and he has already gone far in setting up the plans. Players from Erie, Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Cleveland, Dayton, Cincinnati and Toronto, Canada, have evinced interest in the tournament here and will probably be entered.

Medals and cups will be awarded winners of the tournament. For the men's singles, which is the chief event, Thomas M. Boyle, manager of the Castleton hotel, has offered the "Castleton Cup" which will be competed for each year. A player must win it three successive times to retain possession of it. Other events will be the women's singles, the men's doubles, the women's doubles and the mixed doubles.

This will be the first western Pennsylvania amateur tournament. New Castle gets the honor because of the interest displayed in the game here. Plans for the tournament will be announced later.

A woman is subject to pains, drains and strains that a man never knows. When her burden becomes too great, she frequently develops "nerves".

When "nerves" become your lot, you are indeed a pitiable object. You can't eat, you can't sleep, you can't work.

You become so restless at times you feel you could jump out of your skin. Your neck cords tighten, your head pounds, your stomach jumps and you are generally blue and miserable.

One of the worst things you can do is try to fight "nerves". That only makes the situation worse. What you want is some assistance for your condition.

A Famous Doctor's Prescription
One of the best things you can take for "nerves", and the consequent weakened and exhausted condition, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a well-known woman's medicine developed by the illustrious Dr. R. V. Pierce, who made a special study of female troubles.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is strictly and wholly a vegetable preparation. It is composed of things which Nature grows. It consists of six different roots and herbs, each of which has a special purpose. The ingredients are printed right on the package.

Real Benefit
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do several important things for you.

It will increase your appetite. It will enable you to supply your body with more fuel for energy. It will tend to relieve strain and tension. It will tend to calm your nerves and induce sound sleep. It will promote functional regularity and help you through your period.

It will give you a sense of vigor and well-being.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has helped thousands of women, young and old. It will undoubtedly help you.

A Trial Will Tell!
Get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription today at your drug store. You can buy it in tablet or liquid form. Tablets (new size), 50¢, Liquid, $1 and $1.35.

Start taking it immediately, according to the directions. See how soon you feel better. Mark how much better you eat, work and sleep. Note how much more interest you take in life and the things about you. A week's trial will prove a revelation.

NEW YORK, March 4.—With Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., your reporter lunched the other afternoon among the lions, lionesses and flashes-in-the-pan of that Manhattan zoo known as "21".

I found him an intelligent, engaging, candid and ambitious young man. He does not, by the way, speak with a broad, Oxonian inflection. His "a's" are narrow, at least to these ears.

To a question about his father, the peripatetic Douglas, Sr., of long romantic memory, the son said:

"I never knew him well until about three years ago."

"Then we took a trip together and I decided he was a pretty nice fellow. He thought I wasn't bad and we have been good friends ever since."

"Of course, when I went into the movies at 13, he disapproved. He thought I ought to stay in school. I agreed with him. But I thought something he never thought about: I thought I ought to eat."

"But when I got away with it, or seemed to, he came around. We have always been financially independent. That's a good thing for father and son. They can get to know each other better and like or dislike each other without bias."

I wanted to know whether this unusual relationship ruled out any filial consciousness—whether young Fairbanks (he is 26) had any of the conventional emotions about Doug, Sr. as his papa.

"On the contrary, I feel like his papa. He seems much younger than I. He is always coming to me for advice. He's a sort of Peter-Pan, you know. Irresponsible. I try to make him do the sensible thing as often as possible.

"But then I'm a little irresponsible myself about everything except my work and that makes it difficult."

"This business about my English accent is funny. I don't really think I have one, do you? But if I had I might be excused for it. After all, I spent most of my life over there."

I made bold then to ask him about some of the stories of his romances that have been peppering the press.

He grinned. He talks in a quick, humorous voice, quite unaffectedly.

"They're all bunk. That's not the usual denial. But they are bunk. Listen, if I had a sweetie and wanted to run around with her, I have been in this business long enough to avoid getting found out by the newspaper reporters. It's a definite technique and you learn it after awhile. You steer clear of the places where you'll be known, that's all there is to it."

We returned to the subject of Doug, Sr.

"He's just a very swell gentleman I know. Why, he's scrupulously careful about showing me any favoritism whatsoever. When the subject of my contract renewal came up at United Artists, he refused to vote. Said people might think he was biased or something. I liked that—particularly since the contract was renewed anyway."

He has just finished "The Amateur Gentleman" for United Artists. He is now bound for England and his own producing firm. If all the flicker heroes were as sensible and acute as young Fairbanks, Hollywood mightn't be such a bad place to visit—although of course you wouldn't live there for a million dollars.

Common Sense about HEADACHE

Usually a headache is due to high nerve tension. At such times all you need is a little Capudine. This remedy is very effective because it quickly soothes tense nerves and eases pain.

Of course headache may come from more serious causes. Sometimes it may be an abscessed tooth, or some underlying cause which only your family physician can discover. Meanwhile, avoid suffering as much as you can by using Capudine.

Capudine's action is unusually quick because it is liquid and its ingredients are already dissolved. No narcotics.

Here is what Prof. Frederick S. Breed of Chicago university writes about it in the January issue of Childhood Education:

"The present method is being discarded in the primary grades because experiments do not attest its superiority. In grades two and three this method, otherwise known as the test-study method, has been found inferior to the other study-test procedure. This finding is not altogether surprising when one reflects that the test-study method presupposes ability on the part of pupils to do effective independent study."

And he might have added, "since also the test-study method practices the learner in making mistakes." In the long run, educational investigations seem to square with common sense; when they don't we had better assume that the conclusions had been drawn before all the evidence was in.

Basic Rule.

On the basis of common sense, refined by what seems to be the best known psychological principles of learning, this one basic rule should be our best guide in helping a child learn to spell: "Try to keep the child from ever spelling a word wrong. Do all you can to help him always spell it right, and get satisfaction from doing so." Accordingly, we shall lead him, as he studies, first to look calmly at the word, written in bold clear print or script, which he is learning to spell, to say the letters over slowly in right sequence while looking at the word carefully, repeating the process often enough to guarantee that he can spell the word without looking at it; making sure, of course, to connect the letter-sequence in his mind with the pronunciation and meaning of the word.

For example, as he looks at the word ready, he will say to himself, "Ready, r-e-a-d-y; ready, r-e-a-d-y, ready, r-e-a-d-y," over and over, not venturing to look away from the word or to try himself out before he feels sure he can spell it accurately alone, and feeling wholly free to look back at the original word whenever he feels the slightest doubt about its spelling. As he discovers that he has succeeded with this word, he can, with confidence, attack the next word.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SUGGESTS SPELLING METHOD

A number of years ago two eminent educators ran a series of experiments on the learning of spelling. Although their experiments were "full of holes," which some of us frequently pointed out, they announced that their studies had proved conclusively the superiority of the pretest method of teaching spelling. These Pied Pipers, with the assistance of several publishers of spellers based on their conclusions, soon had nearly all the teachers of this country teaching by this method. My readers must know it. A list of words is pronounced, say, on Monday. The children are to try and spell as many as they can. Those they spell wrong, they are to study during the week, to be tested again on Friday. You see, they study no word until they have first spelled it wrong.

Here is what Prof. Frederick S. Breed of Chicago university writes about it in the January issue of Childhood Education:

"The present method is being discarded in the primary grades because experiments do not attest its superiority. In grades two and three this method, otherwise known as the test-study method, has been found inferior to the other study-test procedure. One Act Plays To Be Presented

Series To Be Arranged For March 26-28 By Westminster Students

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Mar. 4.—Another series of one-act plays have been scheduled for Little Theatre presentation, March 26-28, according to Professor A. T. Cordray, director.

"The Wandering Scholar from Paradise," by Hans Sachs, translated from the German by S. A. Elliot, is a medieval farce in two scenes. The second play is "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets," by George Bernard Shaw, a drama, in which Shakespeare, as a character, holds a tryst with the Dark Lady of his sonnets.

A Zoe Atkins comedy, "Such a Charming Young Man," will close the program. The plot concerns a young man's fantastic attempt to excuse himself for being late to a luncheon engagement.

One other long production in addition to the short plays will be presented in April or May to close the Little Theatre program for the year.

The eucalyptus tree of Australia is a competitor of the redwood and occasionally specimens are found a little higher than the redwoods.

NEW CASTLE PREPARES FOR RANKIN GAME

Semi-Finalists Battle Thursday

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Will Not Be Flushed By Success

Wylie Campbell Is Star Of Rankin Team, New Defense Causes Worry

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" basketball team of destiny was in the throes of serious training today for the grueling battle that awaits it Thursday night at the Pitt stadium, Pittsburgh, with Rankin high, W. P. I. A. L. champions last year barring the way to further floor glory. The game Thursday night will start at 8:30 o'clock.

There are several spots in the defense that need brushing up and Coach Phil Bridenbaugh had his red and black tossers out on the Washington court this afternoon for a brief session.

Ranking high will offer New Castle the stiffest kind of opposition, especially this "Brown Bomber" Wylie Campbell, the boy who scored 16 points against Ford City Monday night. Evasic, with 10 points in the Ford City game, will also be hard to stop. If New Castle can bottle up this pair of star performers the game will have a different complexion.

Of course, New Castle with such fine guards as George "Pop" Adams and "Jap" Covelli in the fold, need not worry about anything either. It was the help of this pair of splendid young men that brought victory to New Castle Monday over the over-rated Latrobe high team. Rankin will have to watch these two boys if they intend to get anywhere. "Bus" Strasbaugh will continue his fine work. Last Monday Strasbaugh looked very good against the big Lenz from Latrobe.

Bessemer Wins Second Pennant

Red And Black Clad Passers Top New Wilmington To Win Class B Laurels

WAMPUM FINISHES SECOND IN LEAGUE

Two titles in one season is the notable feat of the Bessemer high school basketball team. Coming back after trailing most of the game, the coach Frederick machine handed the New Wilmington high five a 28-22 setback to capture the coveted Lawrence County Class B title last night. Recently the Cement City passers occupied the Section 22 laurels only to lose to Monaca in the first round of the Class B W. P. I. A. L. tourney.

Wampum high, with one of the smoothest quietists in the history of the school, finished second with nine triumphs and only three losses. Mount Jackson was third, followed by Union and East Brook, who are deadlocked for fourth place. Union trounced Shenango 31-16 to gain a tie. Union has an opportunity to keep the fourth place all to itself Friday night when the Scotland Lancers meet East Brook.

Shikat Captures Wrestling Title

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Mar. 4.—It probably will cause no upward among the statesmen in London, Paris, Tokio or Berlin, but the fact remains, another war is brewing and the slaughter may be terrific before peace is eventually declared.

This new threat to world peace comes from the various factions of the wrestling racket. And all because Dick Shikat, a colorful, but efficient Danno O'Mahoney, a colorful but inept Irishman, of his grunt and groan title.

Now rival groups are looking askance at Jack (Pachyderms) Curley, under whose benign auspices Shikat operates, and vowing vengeance at the first opportunity if not sooner.

It has been rumored for some time among the mat fraternity that O'Mahoney was to lose his title but it was expected that it would happen at the right time and place and to the right opponent. The boys didn't dream he was Shikat, who he had beaten only last September.

But it seems Shikat meant business and it became apparent to the veriest novice soon after the bout began, that this was a "shooting" match. A "shooting" match among the rasslers means one that is on the level.

Sports Review Just At Glance

(International News Service)
Bill Terry of New York Giants left training camp at Pensacola, Fla., for home in Memphis to have operation performed on crippled knee.

Status of Luke Appling, star shortstop of Chicago White Sox, remained clouded. Owner Comiskey said Appling had signed, but Luke denied it.

Dizzy Dean arrived at St. Louis Cards camp at Bradenton with announcement his price would mount to $45,000 if club doesn't sign him soon.

From Brooklyn Dodgers camp at Clearwater came word Van Mungo ace hurler probably would sign for $11,750... $250 less than he asked. Wrestling world in uproar over Dick Shikat's victory over Danno O'Mahoney in world's title wrestling match.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Several thousand fans watched Jack Trammel score a technical knockout over Tony Canela in an abbreviated heavyweight scrap at Youngstown last night. Referee Jimmie Jones, former middleweight, stopped the fight at the end of the second stanza. Canela, who had been unable to land a solid punch on his tall adversary, had landed scarcely an effective blow. Jones stopped the fight when a right hand punch to the jaw caused a severe gash on the right side of Canela's face. Sunny Jim McVey stopped Battling Bozo in the second round also. Jack Reed and Bert Jones, light-heavyweights, fought a hurricane eight round bout. The crowd which also saw two other scraps, was the largest Promoter Al Zill has had for several years and fans from surrounding cities joined with those of Youngstown in making up the large group.

Held on Even terms until 11 minutes from the finish, Geneva College basketballers took advantage when Al-Jackery lost the services of Ray Shafer and won 32 to 20, at Meadville. Wesleyan of West Virginia lost to West Virginia Mountaineers at Buckhannon, 50 to 34, despite the opposition of Center Long who shot nine field goals and registered two attempts successfully from the foul line. Bethany tossed Salem for a 52 to 36 defeat at Salem. Klevins and Burger, forwards, and Doepken, center, for Bethany, scored a total of 37 points. Percy, forward for Salem, recorded 12 points.

Eddie Simms, of Cleveland, who is under the management of Jimmie Dunn of Cleveland, will have his first fight since shifting from Tom Stanley to the former local boy, at St. Louis, Thursday night. He is matched to fight John Henry Lewis, light-heavyweight champion of the world. As the bout will not be for the title, Lewis will probably weigh in the 80's. Simms weighs around 190. Dunn has not had much time to shift Simms' style to that taught by Dunn, who believes in time Simms will become one of the best in the heavyweight class.

Among locals at the fight in Youngstown last night were Bob Latner, who is drilling Bob Kendall for the heavyweight ranks. City Police Officers Harry Plummer, John Moore and Tommy Jones. Johnny Behr, of the Illinois A. C., Chicago, has been named coach of the U. S. Olympic boxing team. Gregory Mangin, won from Dr. Eugene McCafferty in tennis, 6-2, 6-2, at New York, last night.

Waynesburg To Battle Titans

Close Battle Is Predicted At New Wilmington Gym This Evening

WAYNESBURG HAS EXCELLENT RECORD

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Mar. 4.—One big "if" stands in the way of the Westminster Titans making a clean sweep of conference games this season, as the Waynesburg Jackets journeyed to New Wilmington to play Westminster in their second battle of the year tonight.

The Jackets are a dangerous group, capable of an upset any time. Earlier in the season Waynesburg upset Carnegie Tech after the Tartans had disposed of both Pitt and Westminster. Last week the Jackets again played over their heads to dump the strong Geneva Covenanters in a charity game.

An early season victory, on the Waynesburg home floor, for the Titans was won only with difficulty, with a final score of 50-39. Field goals were close with 19 for the Titans and 16 for the Jackets. The game was won only with the final whistle.

Two games stand between the Titans and a sweep for the conference title. Waynesburg and Slippery Rock on Saturday night, both games on the Titans home-floor. Bennett and Krosch proved the most effective scorers against the Jackets earlier in the season, "Wes" accounting for 21 points to 11 for the husky Titan guard. Boulder and Sludgers proved most effective as point getters for Waynesburg, although the entire team shared in the score.

Waynesburg's 39 points scored on the Titans is the largest opposition score, with the exception of Pitt's 42 points, on the Pittsburgh floor.

Three Titans play their last games this week in the blue and white outfit: Wes Bennett, score-getting center and forward from Akron, O.; Henry "Swede" Hunkeler, Long Island south-paw guard, one of the best to ever wear the Titan uniform; and John Willis, brainy, freak-shoot basketballer from Ford City. Coach Lawther will find these men hard to replace in his starting-five.

The game will be called at 8:15.

Take Close Game 30 To 29 From Enon Valley In Final Effort

Wampum High school basketball team ended its 1935-36 season last night at the Enon Valley High floor with a 30 to 29 victory in a thrilling encounter.

The Wampumians led 17 to 12 at the half, but Enon Valley staged a final period rally that just about overtook the Hennonmen. Plumer and Marshall led the attack for the Wampumians, with 20 of the points between them. Scala and Fontana played fine basketball for the Wampumians at guard.

For Enon Valley team the work of the Watt brothers E. and D. featured this pair accounting for 25 of the points. Riddle had the other four points for the Enon Valleyians.

The New Wilmington passers continued their cautious attack, scoring 4 more points in the second quarter. At the intermission, the College Town representatives were sporting an 8-6 lead.

The Bessemerites presented a powerful offensive attack in the third period, scoring 13 points while New Wilmington sent the sphere through the cords for 7 more markers. At the end of third period activities, Bessemer led by a 19-15 margin.

NEW YORK, March 4.—The stock market absorbed considerable profit taking today but maintained a generally buoyant tone.

The initial buying wave resulted in gains of more than 3 points in leading issues. Steels, motors, motor accessories and chemicals led the upswing. Coppers and tobacco were slightly lower.

U. S. Steel opened at 67 and held on to the better part of its gain in the face of realizing.

General Motors, Chrysler, Borg-Warner and Briggs Allied Chemical and American Can ran up 3 and 2 points, respectively. Du Pont gained almost 2.

Tobacco shares were depressed by selling in American tobacco B and Liggett & Myers B. Each of which lost more than a point.

Aviations were aided by reports of new imminent government orders.

LEAD FAST ATTACK

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 4.—Before a record crowd in the Shelby auditorium on Tuesday night the Faculty cagers of the local high school won the first half title of the Shelby inter-departmental basketball league when they convincingly trimmed the Finishing passers 32-15 in a playoff game.

Both teams were tied for first half honors and a playoff was necessary to decide who was to play the Cold Draw, who won the second half, for the league title. As a result of last night's game it will be a three-game series between the Faculty and Cold Draw for the title. One game is expected to be played this week, and the remaining two if necessary next week. Of course, if one team wins two consecutive games the third will not be necessary. It was the Cold Draw that administered the last defeat to the crack Faculty team. The series promises to be a nip and tuck affair and will more than likely take the three games.

The Faculty displayed championship form last night. They presented a defense that was hard to penetrate. Finishing, winners of the league title last year, were only able to ring up six field goals. Faculty used a diversified offense with fast breaks that puzzled their opponents. They took a 6-2 lead in the initial period and were never headed. The count was 12-3 in their favor at the half and 22-10 in the third quarter. The Faculty cagers were consistent and registered a like number of points in the final chapter while holding their opponents to five, making the final score 32-15.

Jerry Newton and McPhee were the big guns in the attack for the winners, counting up 11 and nine points respectively. Schill and King also played a fine game. Finishing's failure to make a better showing can be attributed to the sterling defense presented by "Dutch" Croft, huge six foot four inch center of the Faculty. Croft broke up many a pass and scoring attempt. The work of Bill Cole held the limelight for the losers.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Ritchie's Death Is Having Effect

Demise Of Maryland Political Leader Removes Opposition To Roosevelt

LOYAL ALLY OF ALFRED E. SMITH

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S Street

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, March 4. — To speak of the recent death of former Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland as a piece of good luck for the New Deal may be undiplomatic.

Nevertheless, politicians are saying that Ritchie, as an anti-New Deal Democrat, might have swung the Free State away from a pro-Roosevelt vote next November, but that it undoubtedly will give a Rooseveltian majority with his influence gone.

Senator Millard E. Tydings' Democratic voice is predominant in Maryland with the former governor's passing. Tydings also has been adversely critical of the New Deal, but he is a "party regular"—unenthusiastic as to the present regime, but not a man to fight it, as Ritchie seemed to have made up his mind to do.

Indeed, Ritchie's funeral scarcely was over before Lansdale G. Scasser, president of the Maryland senate, and a Democratic power in the state's politics, proclaimed himself for the Roosevelt administration. It was a significant utterance, coming when it did. Following so soon after the ex-governor's death it gave the impression that the Maryland Democratic organization perhaps had not changed, but at least had made up its mind.

NOT A PIVOTAL STATE
Maryland is not exactly a pivotal state but Ritchie was something of a pivotal character.
He was beaten for re-election in his last campaign but he remained Democracy's leader in his commonwealth, which is rather more Democratic than Republican. He could easily have staged a comeback; had much prestige; repeatedly had been mentioned presidentially.

Moreover, he was a loyal ally of Al Smith.
Al and Ritchie, "taking a walk" together at the Philadelphia convention, would have been a formidable couple. Al can't be nearly so effective with no Ritchie to accompany him. Possibly he will have other company, but not in Ritchie's class, by a long shot.

DEATH STEPS IN
Death has been good to President Roosevelt.
Ex-Governor Ritchie! Maryland! Senator Huey P. Long! Louisiana, most likely! And possibly Arkansas and Mississippi! He might even have been helpful to Governor Eugene Talmadge in Georgia.
President Roosevelt, of course did not want Senator Long assassinated or ex-Governor Ritchie to die.
For all that, the elimination of Ritchie and Long benefits him hugely.

A THOUGHT
This kind of talk may be gruesome. All the same, it's indulged in in Washington.
It is common conversation how conveniently the mortality rate has adapted itself to the New Deal's advantage.

If an epidemic were to break out now in the ranks of the Liberty league the survivors would try to turn it to political purposes. The Liberty leaguers are just that vehement.

AROUND CITY HALL

Sixty-seven thousand, six hundred and seventy-three dollars and sixteen cents were collected in delinquent taxes last year by Solicitor Robert White, according to statistics furnished by City Controller Earl Wimer today. The money has been turned into the city treasury. White also received $22,316.19 from property owners for improvements. This latter sum is used for the retirement of certificates of indebtedness outstanding.

Police department receipts for 1935 took a big drop, according to Wimer. In 1934 there was collected $11,168.75 and in 1935, the collection (composed of fines and forfeits) amounted to only $2,146.

A. R. English, former sealer of weights and inspector of measures, collected during 1935 from coal and coke licenses $247.50. The city engineer, G. R. Throop, collected $489.50 from various sources and the plumbing inspector, Harold Dunlap, collected $581.75 in his department, according to Wimer.

Look For Vandals At Castle Beach

Miss Leona Nolan, who leases the Castle Beach property, has complained to the police department of the pranks of vandals who have been destroying property. Miss Nolan alleges that signs are torn off buildings and that fires are built near the buildings. A watch is being set and any one caught will be arrested.

Announcement was made today of the promotion of K. A. Cotton as a successor to the late Samuel R. Wilkison as line superintendent of the Pennsylvania Power company. Wesley H. Luikart was named to succeed Cotton. Both have been acting in those capacities since the death of Wilkison.

Cotton is a graduate of New Castle high and New Castle Business college. He served in his first position with the State Highway Department and later was attached to the city engineer's office. In 1925 he affiliated with the Pennsylvania Power company as a field engineer. His first job was on the layout of the constant current street lighting system and replaced the old arc system here. His experience during the next few years was varied and extended over much of the Pennsylvania system.
